

IF YOUR PRACTICE GROUP IS CONSIDERING AN INTRODUCTORY OR REFRESHER INTERDISCIPLINARY COLLABORATIVE TRAINING

We “role play” a case from start to finish
Demonstrate each step with both the professionals and the clients
First contact with the attorney - First contact with the MHP
Contact with FP and necessary financial documents
Pre-team meetings, team meetings and debriefings
Interest Based Negotiations
Experiential activities with the attendees

More in depth understanding of the Collaborative Process
Attendees are awake, on their toes, not knowing what to expect!
Very interactive, “we step out of role” to answer questions or to clarify a point
We bring the attendees into each team meeting by distributing
Agenda - Minutes - Agreements

We use two professionals from your group to portray the divorcing couple
We adapt the fact pattern to your area and locale
A unique kickoff to our presentation
Immediately captures the audience's attention

We proceed with a lively mixture of both didactic and interactive demonstrations
The audience is attentive and engaged throughout
Additional "surprises" that keep the attendees' attention

A Power Point presentation follows each professional’s demonstration Attendees say they “feel ready to begin their own case”

The evaluations of our trainings average in excess of 4.8 on a 5-point scale.
